filled the adjacent streets. The immediate mourners grouped around the casket were the widow, her married daughter, Mrs. Damrosch, Miss Hattie Blaine, Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Miss Abigail Dodge (Gail Hamilton); Mr. R. G. CEREMONIES AT THE HOUSE. The ceremonies inside the house were impressively simple. Before the hour of 10 the invited guests began to arrive and take their seats in the front parlor of the mansion. There were no chairs reserved except for the President and for the immefliate family of the deceased. Eleven o'clock was the hour named for the simple service of prayer which was to precede the removal of the body to the church for the more public rites. It was only a few minutes after that hour when the mourners entered and the President and distinguished concourse rose to pay fitting honor and sympathy to the sorrow of the depeased statesman's relatives. The family was followed by the Rev. Dr. Hamlin, of the Church of the Covenant, who. standing beside the casket, in a low tone delivered the Presbyterian service for the departed soul. As he did so Mr. Walter Damrosch touched the keys of the piano to a slow dirge and the scene was an impressive one. Dr. Hamlin returned thanks to God that by his power this life was ended only that the life of immortality might be begun. He beseeched the Almighty that somfort might come to every member of the stricken household, because the one that had gone out of this life had gone to immortality. Let the consolation that came from above fall tenderly and sweetly upon them. He closed with these words: "Speak to them words of comfort such as Thou alone can teach. This we ask in the hame of our Savior, Amen." This comand the casket was closed and tenderly borne to the hearse.

the mourning guests left the house which had been so frequently invaded by the angel of death, and the procession wended its way slowly to the church. Outside the house the street was thronged with spectathe pall-bearers deposited their sacred burden in the hearse, and the attendants temporarily buried it under as many flowers as bould be placed therein. The cortege then started for the church. In the first carriage was Rev. Dr. Tennis L. Hamlin, the pfliciating clergyman. Then came the pall-bearers: Senators Hale, Frye and Morgan, ex-Speaker Reed, Representatives Boutelle, Hitt (the latter formerly Mr. Blaine's Assistant Secretary of State) and Bingham of Pennsylvania, in which State Mr. Blaine was born; General Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, second cousin of Mr. Blaine; John Hay, ex-Assistant Secretary of State; Jos. H. Manley, of Augusta, Me.; Alma F. Jenks and P. V. T. Ely. Afterwards followed the immediate family of the deceased and Doctors Johnston and Hyatt, the attending physicians in Mr. Blame's last illness. The distinguished guests followed in regularly assigned order without confusion, the arrangements being superintended by W. E. Curtis, at the request of the family.

AT THE CHURCH. The Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, where Mr. Blaine was a pewholder, had been surrounded with a rope to exclude all not specially invited. The decorations were very rich and effective, having been made under the direction of the publie gardener. The space in front of the pulpit, in which the coffin lay, was entirely covered with the floral emblems which accompanied the remains from the house. The relatives and pall-bearers occupied the first eight rows of seats in the main aisle. Behind them were seated the Presi-

Vice-president, Cabinet offi-Speaker Crisp and memof the Supreme Court, with families. Intermixed with them were Baron Fava, Sir Julian Panncefote, and nearly all the diplomatic corps, as well as many Senators and Representatives in addition to those present at the house.

It was exactly 12 o'clock when the slow and solemn music announced the arrival of the funeral party at the door of the church. As the sad procession moved up the aisle, Mr. Walter Damrosch, Mr. Blaine's son-inlaw, who was at the organ, played an improvisation made up of several themes of hymns which Mr. Blaine loved. All present rose and remained standing as the funeral party moved down the aisle. Dr. Hamlin, the pastor, walked at the head of the mourners, reading from the ritual of the Presbyterian worship. Behind him came the honorary pall-bearers, two abreast, Senators Hale and Frye, the representatives of the dead man's State, leading the way. The body-bearers moved in measured pace towards the chancel-rail. where they deposited the casket amid the profusion of flowers. The family followed the body and took the front seat on the leit near the remains. More distant kinsfolk, relatives, intimate friends, the President and his Cabinet and the other members of the funeral party who were at the house came in after the family and were seated in the pews reserved for them. When all were seated the deep peals of the organ ceased and Dr. Hamlin, rising from his place in the pulbegan the church services with the reading of Scriptures. Their reading finished, prayer was offered by Dr. Hamlin. Dr. Hamlin's prayer was the only approach to a funeral discourse that marked the ceremonies of the day. At its conclusion the Lord's Prayer was repeated by the paster and a part of the congregation, and the benediction was invoked upon all present, and at 12:45 o'clock the church services closed, and the casket was raised and placed once more in the bearse, all the distinguished concourse standing as it was borne from the church. It was noted that Mrs. Blaine was not among the mourners, as had been supposed. Among so many deeply veiled figures her form had not heretofore been missed, but it was soon whispered that, overcome by grief, she had remained at the house. Prior grief, she had remained at the house. Prior | GLASGOW, Jan. SO.—Arrived: State of to the starting of the funeral procession | Nebraska, from New York.

from Lafayette square Mrs. Blaine had requested to be left alone for a few minutes with her honored dead. The parlor had been cleared for this purpose, and when Mrs. Blaine emerged she made her way. supported on the arms of her son and daughter, to the room where her busband had died, and there gave way to her grief in utter prostration. Mrs. Hale and other sympathizing friends followed her to the death-chamber. Their friendly ministrations were of no avail, however, and Mrs. Blaine was compelled to remain behind.

AT THE GRAVE. The masses of people in the vicinity of the church, kept from too close approach to the doors of the edifice by a detachment of policemen, pressed closer as the stir about the main doorway told them that the services were over. The procession was soon moving, and, passing through Georgetown, entered Oak Hill Cemetery through the east gate. On the successive terraces that border the winding pathway leading to the grave scores of spectators were stand-ing. Many pressed forward to pluck a flower from a wreath or a column that adorged the dead man's bier. The floral tributes, so numerous that five wagons were necessary to convey them to the cem-etery, were arranged artistically back of the grave on a huge strip of canvas. Mud and melting snow were everywhere under foot, and temporary plank-walks had been placed near the grave. On these the family, friends and official associates of Mr. Blaine stood during the last ceremony. Overhead the sky was hidden by leaden clouds that foreshadowed rain. At one side and near the head of the grave, so close that its roots almost encroached on the grave, stands a tall hickory tree, partially decayed. With the exception of Mrs. Blaine, all the family and the relatives were there. Behind them stood the President of the United States, the distinguished pall-bearers, most of the Cabinet, Vice-president Morton and many intimate friends and political associates. Dr. Hamlin read the simple burial service of the Presbyterian Church. This was followed by an extemporaneous prayer. Then came the benediction, and all that was mortal of James Gillespie Blaine was consigned to earth. The interment was over fifteen minutes after the cortege entered the cemetery at half past 1 o'clock. Slowly the crowd dispersed. The President, Cabi-net, Senators, family, all entered their cardaughter; Mr. Hampton Denman, of riages and were driven away, all but one-Missouri, cousin of Mr. Blaine; Frank, James G. Blaine, who is junior no longer, Henry, Horace and Augustus Stanwood | who stood beside the grave of his father until the masons had bricked in the casket and the grave diggers had filled in the re-Though a concourse of several thousand | maining space. undertaker, Joseph Gawler. WILLIAM J. JOHNSTON, M. D. FRANK HYATT, M. D. The desire of the friends who attended the services at the church to carry away some memento of the occasion resulted in the complete stripping of the flowers from the pulpit and the organ rail, almost before the cortege had fairly begun its march to the cemetery.

The will of Mr. Blaine will be probated in Augusta, Me., which was his legal restdence. The disposition he makes of bis property is characteristic of the confidence he always reposed in his wife, and which was such a noticeable feature of the family relation. Everything is left unreservedly to Mrs. Blaine. She is to sole executrix, and is not to required to give any bond. Mr. Blaine's estate will amount to about $800,000. The will was executed several weeks since, at about the time Mr. Blaine was seized with the first serious attack of heart failure.

Services at Augusta. AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 30.-While the last honors were being paid over the remains of the late James G. Blaine at Washington this afternoon regular funeral services were held in the Congregational Church in this city, so that the people among whom the departed statesman began his career might attest their regard for him as a man and their sorrow at his death. The church was filled, over one thousand persons being present, including the clergymen of the city. The altar was draped with the tors, who reverently doffed their hats as | national colors, and in front of it was placed a large portrait of the dead statesman, with a black mourning back-ground relieved by smilax entwined about the portrait. The Blaine family pew was hung with floral emblems, evergreens and white roses. After regular services remarks were made by Hon. J. W. Bradbury. He is ninety-one years of age, and when he spoke of the ways of Providence, by which a man of Mr. Blaine's age, who, at the zenith of his possibilities, should be taken, and those advanced in age and of little usefulness left, the scene was very affecting. Resolutions of affectionate regard, favoring the interment of Mr. Blaine's remains in Augusta, were ordered sent to the family.

ITALY'S BANK SCANDALS

Investigation by the Chamber of Deputies Opposed by Premier Giolitti.

Many Persons in High Standing Alleged to Be Implicated-MM. Deroulede and Pichon Wound Each Other in a Duel.

WILL NOT INVESTIGATE.

Italy's Premier Afraid to Probe the Bank Scandals-Serious Charges. ROME, Jan. 30.—Despite the vote of the Deputies on Saturday against a parliamentary inquiry in the bank scandals, the subject of the inquiry was to-day debated again in the chamber. Signor Calajanni, who led the attack upon Premier Giolitti on Friday, proposed that a motion favoring a parliamentary inquiry be made one of the orders of the day for to-morrow. The Premier repeated his argument against precipitating the immediate discussion of the bank scandals, and Signor Calajanni's proposal was rejected. Signor Montagna spoke at length as to the reports that several Deputies were to be prosecuted for dishonest dealings with the banks of Rome and Naples. The Premier replied that no such action was contemplated and the reports were spread with malicious inof Industry and Commerce, who was arrested on Friday afternoon for complicity in the bank scandals, gave an interview to a reporter on Friday morning.

"If I am arrested," he said, "others of high standing will be arrested, too, I can assure you. I shall have Cabinet ministers and ex-ministers to keep me company in jail. In 1889 I inspected the books banks now involved in the scandals, and I found serious irregularities in the bookkeeping both of the National Bank and the Bank of Rome. I warned the government that the National Bank would certainly collapse sooner or later unless drastic reforms were undertaken at once. My official superiors, however, compelled me to make a report exactly contradicting the facts as I had found them and stated thom. Signor Monzilli acknowledged that in the case of the Bank of Rome his prophecies had not yet proved true, although future developments, he said, would justify them. The persistence of the reports that Signor Lacava, Minister of Industry and Commerce, who managed the last elections for the government is implicated in the scandals, has led everybody to expect that he will resign soon, and his resignation, Signor Monzilli said. would be followed by startling exposures. Monzilli also asserted that Rattazi, minister of the royal household, some time ago borrowed 1,375,000 francs from the Bank of Rome, which he subsequently repaid. This statement has confirmed from several sources. Signor Monzilli gave the reporter a list of the ministers and ex-ministers who had been subsidized in various ways by the banks now in trouble, and earnestly requested that in case he be arrested the list be published at once.

Signor A. Monzilli, director of the Bureau

ANOTHER FRENCH DUEL,

Paul Deroulede Wounds M. Pichon in the Ribs and Gets Pricked in the Face. Paris, Jan. 30. - Deputies Deroulede and Pichon fought a duel with swords this afternoon. The duel was the result of an insult offered by Deroulede to Pichon in the Chamber of Deputies on Saturday, when Deroulede called out to Pichon; "You are M. Herz's sleeping partner!" Afterwards, in the lobby, Deroulede repeated the words. A challenge was the result. It was reported on Sunday that Deroulede wished his seconds to defer final arrangements for the duel until Deputy Pichon explained why he felt insulted by a mention of his relations to Cornelius Herz. The duel was, however, not deferred. Swords were the weapons and the two men fought with considerable vindictiveness, Pichon, who is a co-laborer with M. Clemencean, on La Justice, being evidentanxious to injure Deroulede. The latter succeeded in wounding Pichon seriously in the ribs, while Deroulede himself received a scratch from Pichon's sword in the face. The seconds then declared honor satisfied, and Pichon's wound received immediate attention. Deroulede was warmly congratulated by his friends.

Insurance Companies Withdraw from Mexico. MONTEREY, Mex., Jan. 30 .- All the foreign insurance companies operating in this country have instructed their agents to discontinue doing business in Mexico, as the recently imposed tax has rendered it impossible to do business under present circumstances. Even before the present tax was imposed, the leading life companies conferred together and considered the question of whether or not it would pay eventually to continue here, they made a special investigation of the field and came to the conclusion that there was no improvement possible even under the then existing circumstances, and that the death claims in Mexico are greater in proportion to the amount of insurance written than in any country in the world.

CRUSHED BY A ROCK.

Three Miners Mangled Into a Shapeless Mass While Eating Their Dinners.

STREATOR, Ill., Jan. 30 .- During the noon hour to-day three miners, named Michael Davidson, Michael Haley and Joseph Smith, employed in Peter Ryan's coal shaft, in the northern part of the city, were sitting in the mine, eating dinner. Suddenly a rock, weighing several tons, fell upon them, crushing them into a shapeless mass. The bodies were recovered only after the rock was broken to pieces. Haley leaves a widow and one child, and Davidson leaves four children in destitute circumstances.

MUST TAKE PROMPT ACTION.

[Concluded from First Page.]

United States continues to be a prominent subject of discussion in political circles and in the newspapers.

The Evening Globe, Tory organ, says this afternoon that the annexation of Hawaii may result in bringing the United States into foreign relations at variance with the whole of their traditional policy and cause friction and conflict between them and the English colonies. American gression in the Pacific, adds the Globe, would occasion Austrian remonstrance, which the British government would be compelled to listen to. The internal affairs of Hawaii will settle themselves the sooner if it is more clearly understood that they are not to be made a temptation to the United States to commit a most uncharacteristic act of folly.

The St. James Gazette, Tory, says: President Harrison's Cabinet will do well not to arrive at a hurried decision on the question of Hawaii. It must not be assumed that because the United States have been nursing Hawaii they are best entitled to effective interference in the affairs of that country. The American party in those islands is by no means so strong as we are asked to believe." The Pall Mail Gazette, now also a Tory organ, is neutral in its remarks on the question of American annexation of Hawaii, and suggests that it would be interesting to see how the Americans would manage a celony.

The Vossische Zeitung, of Berlin, says of the revolution in Hawaii: "The restoration of the Queen certainly would be preferable to a tripartite control of the country. Our experience with Samoa by no means recommends a repetition of such an experiment. Germany has no reason to meddle further with South sea affairs. America and Great Britain might better be left by us to settle this as they think proper." The Paris dailies taunt England with inconsistency because she objects to American aggression in Hawaii while she herself excludes other powers from Egypt. The Moniteur Universil says that the great American people are not the sort to be in-timidated by English bluster.

The Homestead Poisoning Trial, PITTSBURG, Jan. 30.-At the morning session of the Beatty Homestead poisoning case a number of witnesses were examined for the defense, who stated that the reputation for veracity of Gallagher and Davidson, the confessed poisoners, was bad. One witness, John Campbell, a steamboat man, said that he would not believe Davidson under oath. In the afternoon Hugh Dempsey, master workman of the Knights of Labor, who was convicted last week, was put on the stand. He denied that he ever authorized Beatty to hire Gallagher to go to Homestead and poison non-union workmen. Dempsey then related his connection with Gallagher and Beatty. He said he told them to go to the mill and secure for him the number of men at work there and what was being done; that Gallagher made greport to him in accordance subsequently. He could not say when this report was made, but thought some time in August.

Boiler-Makers Give Up the Fight.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 30.—The strike of the boiler-makers in the Chicago & Alton railroad shops in this city, which was inaugurated nearly six months ago, came to an end to-day, by the men making a surrender and applying individually for their former places. The strike was for the adoption of the union scale of prices, which differed slightly from the prices paid. About one-half of the strikers were taken back, the places of the remainder being previously filled by non-union men.

Representative Bretz.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 30.-The Assembly this afternoon took final action in the case of Bretz, the Populist member who made open charges at the time White was weeks ago, that the vote of Kerns, another Populist member, for White, had been bought, and that Marion Cannon, Demooratic and Populist Congressman-elect, had been instrumental in effecting the purchase. Bretz's charges were investigated by a special committee of the Assembly, who reported they were unfounded, and to-day the Assembly, by a vote of 60 to 16, adopted a resolution suspending Bretz for one week and authorizing the Speaker to reprimand

The Roby Race-Track Lobby.

Huntington Herald, The Legislature threatens to legislate in such a manner as to break up the State agricultural society. It is broadly intimated that the proposed legislation is in the interest of a lot of Indianapolis gamblers who want to confiscate the State fair grounds for a race-course. The scheme savors just enough of corruption to make it probable that it will succeed.

New Castle Courier. The Roby gamblers are this week strongly intrenched at Indianapolis to defeat if possible the bill to prevent winter racing. The Roby gang and everything in legislation favoring them should be promptly kicked out of the Capitol.

Victims of Croton Oil.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 30.—The coroner's inquest on the remains of Louis Szynichy. a Homestead workman who died at the Alleghenv Hospital a few weeks ago, was concluded to-day. Chemist A. E. Munt testified that an analysis of Szynichy's stomach showed enough croton oil and ar- ONKEL BRAESIG. senic to cause death. A verdict was rendered in accordance with the facts brought out, and the jury recommended that the court take the matter up and place the responsibility for death.

A dispatch from Annapolis, Md., states that Mrs. Louis Wolves, wife of the Homestead steward, died there to-day. Mrs. Wolves was taken ill after partaking of a meal at the mili last September and never recovered.

Portsmouth Wheel Works Burned. PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 30. - The mam-moth plant of the Portsmouth wheel works burned last evening. The fire started at 6 o'clock, probably in the dry-house, and had too much headway when discovered to save the buildings and contents. Loss estimated to exceed $100,000, as everything is a total wreck and a large quantity of raw and manufactured material was burned. Insurance unknown. The company is composed of capitalists of Cincinnati, and the works have been in operation since 1890. Four dwelling-houses owned mainly by employes were also burned.

Why Not Locate in the Gas Belt? CHICAGO, Jan. 30 .- President A. L. Conger, of the Whitman & Barnes Company, who is here with his associates, T. C. Alden and C. E. Sheldon, said to-day: "We are coming to Chicago to erect the largest plant in the world for the manufacture of mowers and binders, as well as some additional lines of agricultural implements. Freights cut quite a figure in the business, and we have concluded to leave our Eastern factories take care of our Eastern and foreign trade. As soon as we decide upon a site here we shall proceed at once with the erection of the plant,"

Typhus Fever in a Tenement. NEW YORK, Jan. 30.-There is great exitement over the fact that a typhus fever case was found this morning in a tenement containing twenty-two families, at No. 334 East Ninth street. George Heimert, fortysix years old, is the patient. He was taken to North Brother island. He is one of the men who was confined in the alcholic ward in Bellevue Hospital at the time of the prevalence of typhus. John Kierman, thirty-one years old, who was removed from Bellevne Hospital to North Brother island on Jan. 25, died there to-day from typhus.

"A National Disgrace."

It is said that Judge Gresham is hopeful that President Cleveland may give him the coveted promotion to the Supreme Bench, denied by President Harrison. But Mr. Cleveland cannot afford to make this appointment and Judge Gresham cannot afford to accept it. It would be a national diagrace for the judical ermine to be dishonored by such a palpable bargain.

A Candidate for Almost Anything.

Winchester Herald. Twenty-five years ago, when Isaac P. Gray was a Republican Senator from this county, he was offered the position of minister to Venezuela. This he refused, but it now looks as though he would have to content himself with something that small or even smaller.

Large Loss By Fire. CLAREMONT, N. H., Jan. 30.-The most destructive fire that has ever occurred in this town, this afternoon burned the Monadnock mills stock-house. Loss, $70,0.0; insurance, $90,000.

Gambling Rooms Found Vacant, Sergeant Hagerdonn said last night that he and Sergeant Kurtz had visited the gambling rooms over Tron's and Miles's on the levee and over Doc Zapp's, on West Washington street, and found everything quiet. When they asked admission to the rooms above Tron's, the proprietor asked if they had a warrant, but afterwards admitted them without it. At Miles's, be said, they were admitted to the rooms without a moment's hesitation. In Jas. Ross's rooms, over Doc Zapp's, they found the room deserted and the gamingtable sitting in the hall. There was a pooltable found in the room over Tron's. In the rooms on the levee the games were running Saturday night, and the rooms presented the appearance of having been prepared for a continuance of the games. The advent of uniformed officers., however would undoubtedly be good cause to sound the alarm in the gambling rooms by means of the electric alarm bells, which are in use in all the larger rooms.

James Harper Arrested. Detectives Kinney and Richards last night arrested James Harper for burglary and grand larceny, upon a warrant sworn out by John W. Fike. The warrant charges that on the 29th day of last month Harper stole from Fike, who is a farmer, residing in Franklin township, a quantity of household goods and a road cart.

Another wife beater will appear before the Cadi this morning. James Graham, s resident of Columbia alley, was arrested by officers Wilson and Boylan last night for that offense.

It fills the bill—a dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Sick or Bilious Headaches, Dizziness, Constipa-tion, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured. But not in the way the huge, old-fashion ed pill tries to do it. These little Pellets have better methods. naturally. In other words, they do it thoroughly, but mildly and gently. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupa-tion. They're the smallest in size, but the most effective in result—purely vegetable, perfectly harmless. Only one little sugarcoated Pellet for a laxative-three for a cathartic.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. This is true only of Dr. Pierce's standard AMUSEMENTS
